When you have a lot of requirements to fulfill – from having to take calls from clients, to booking reservations, to monitoring workforce productivity – and it has you jumping from one software to another, it becomes quite the complicated task.

Great news! It doesn't have to be. With IG Business Solutions by INTAGate, you can have multiple solutions running from a single platform. A comprehensive "Productivity Suite," monitoring, reporting, voice recording, and other tasks are made easier as the different applications for different tasks run within a common interface framework.

Working with business telephone systems to provide convenience at work, IG Business Suite allows the appropriate combinations of required software for when wider ranges of functionality are needed. Through the utilization of multiple data and event information from business telephone systems, IG Business Suite provides critical Business Intelligence and Information in an easily-accessible, easy-to-use environment.
